Carolyn has more than 30 years' experience in primary care originally as a Health Visitor then as a Practice Nurse and now specialises in travel health and immunisation. She regularly runs study days on all aspects of travel health and immunisation (including HPA Core Curriculum) and is also involved in developing travel health and immunisation related educational projects in addition to writing for professional journals. She also works with the National Travel Health Network and Centre (NaTHNaC) as an adviser on their telephone helpline and previously as an Associate Yellow Fever Centre Trainer.

In addition to advising travellers in general practice for many years Carolyn also worked in the travel clinic at the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine for 8 years.

Carolyn is currently a member of the travel health sub group of the Joint Committee on Vaccination and Immunisation. She is an honorary tutor and examiner on the Glasgow Foundation and Diploma in Travel Medicine courses and is a Fellow of the Faculty of Travel Medicine of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow.
